

We continued working on the volleyball court, with some very good results. The first step was to measure it out and lay down some clay bricks to outline the court.

The next step was to bring in a supply of sand...we were able to secure 4 truckloads of sand for our project.

The hard work came in spreading the sand around the volleyball court...but everyone pitched in...well, almost everyone...someone needed to photograph.

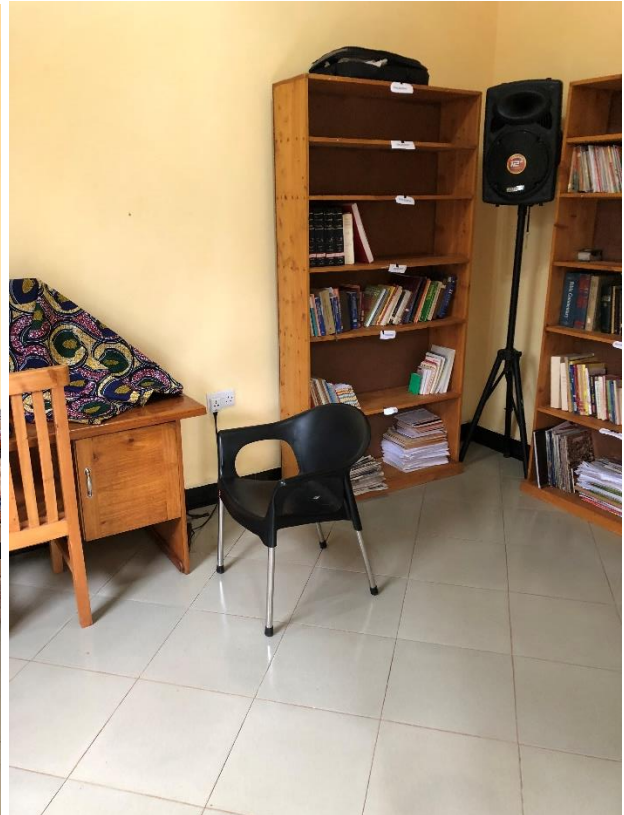

The finished project is a great success and has already brought a good deal of joy.

We also have worked on the student residence, preparing some rooms for the arrival of the novices when they complete their novitiate in September. We will need to reorganize some rooms to make space for the 10 novices, as well as, possibly, some new candidates. To this end, we cleared out one room—which will have to be furnished—and moved the library from another room to a new space.

We had some celebrations lately. Vitalis celebrated his name's day on April 28th and I celebrated my 37th year of priesthood on April 29th. Br. Mosses celebrated his birthday on May 2nd and Phillip celebrated his name's day on May 3rd.

All in all, we are keeping busy and trying to make the best of our time. 😊 😊 😊
